POPULISTS DRAW THE LINES OF BATTLE

Fierce Clash Will Come in Selecting the Nominee for Governor in the Convention Today.

MIDDLE-OF-THE-ROADERS, WITH PEEK AS THEIR LEADER, SETTLE
ON JUDGE HINES.

JUDGE JAMES K. HINES.

CONSERVATIVES
WANT PROHIBITION
IN "THERN," AND
WILL SUPPORT
DR. GAMBRELL.

MUDDLED AT MIDNIGHT--WILL CAUCUS AGAIN

The populist convention will be called today at noon. Tom Watson will preside as temporary chairman. J. K. Hines will be elected permanent chairman. When the convention gets to business there will be a fierce fight between the "middle of the roaders" and those who favor fusion with the prohibitionists.

The nomination of Gambrell will be fought at every step. The body of the convention will favor Hines. He will be the nominee if he agrees to accept. At 9 o'clock this morning a caucus will be held at the capital which may change the programme agreed upon at the exciting shake-up last night. The mass meeting will be held at the tabernacle tonight at 8 o'clock. Tom Watson and other well-known orators will speak.

Like chaff in a hurricane's track prohibition fusion sentiment was scattered last night and the movement to nominate Dr. J. K. Hines was a suddenness that was startling. Today, if he will accept, James H. Hines will doubtless be the choice of the populist party for governor. The name of Dr. Gambrell may be withdrawn.

There will be, it seems certain, no fusion with the prohibition people of the state. The quick change came late yesterday afternoon. During the morning Colonel W. L. Peek had been the choice of the middle of the road crowd.

He had a strong following back of him. Being that the nomination of Hines would draw largely from the fusion movement, Colonel Peek announced yesterday afternoon that he would retire and leave the field to Hines.

A caucus had been called to meet at 9 o'clock last night. It was called by those advocating Dr. Gambrell with the idea of crystallizing sentiment in his favor. When the populist met it was seen by the Gambrell faction that they were weakly in the minority and they urged an adjournment until this morning. This caucus dissolved.

The cry for all middle of the roaders to remain went abroad. Only one or two left the hall. It was clearly apparent that the plan of the self-appointed leaders had been down; that the scheme of A. A. Murphy, J. L. Shibley and Major Charles McGregor had fallen through.

Enthusiasm for Hines was wild. Two hundred throats echoed his name. They yelled down the Gambrell sentiment. They called for a straight populist. They wanted a middle-of-the-roader. They wanted no "rank outsider," they said. A committee was appointed to confer with Judge Hines to see if he would accept and to urge him to yield to their demand. It

LION BITES OFF A BABY'S HEAD.

Little Son of Manager Hurd Loses His Life in Ohio.

Chillicothe, O., August 5.—(Special.)—Eddie Hurd, the two-year-old son of Manager Hurd, was killed by a lion this afternoon. Hurd and his wife are in charge of a part of Hagenbeck's trained menagerie, which is exhibiting at the fair grounds near town during this week of the Ross county fair.

As a drawing card they had a two-year-old lion tied to a stake near the entrance to the tent. The lion belongs to Jim Corbett, the prize fighter, and has not been regarded as ferocious.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Hurd and his wife were at the entrance taking tickets with a big crowd on the outside. Little Eddie Hurd had been playing around the tent, and finally ventured too near the lion, which had been watching him closely. Suddenly the lion switched his tail violently, sprang forward, and the next instant the child's entire head was in the animal's mouth.

People screamed and fled. While Manager Hurd rushed to the lion, seized him by the jaws, pulled them apart and the headless body of his baby fell to the ground. It required a long time to pull the lion into submission and get him into his cage. The audience was dismissed, and no performance given today.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM.

C. Y. McClelland, of Fort Worth, Dies Suddenly at Lithia Springs.

Lithia Springs, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—C. Y. McClelland, of Fort Worth, Tex., was found dead in his room at the Watson house tonight.

The first caucus adjourned. Then the deep voice of Yancey Carter broke out again. "Let all middle of the roaders remain," he cried. "I want every man who is opposed to the candidacy of Gambrell to stay here."

Very few moved out. Among them was A. A. Murphy.

Hines Caucus Organized. Mark Irwin, the populist editor and son-in-law of Colonel Peek, was in the chair. "Let all those," he said, "who want to see the governor's chair a man who has served the party, who is a populist from the crown of his head to the sole of his feet, remain here and state their views."

Mark Irwin was placed in the chair. W. A. Johnson was named as secretary. There was murmuring of discontent all over the hall. Some quit the place. "Boys, this ain't populism," they cried. "Don't do this way."

"I want to say," he spoke, "that I was sent here to represent my people as best I can do, and I do not intend to yield to the dictates of any man or any set of men."

"We don't intend for you to yield," cried some one from the other side of the hall. "This is the first populist convention I have ever attended in my life," he said, "and I have been requested to leave the hall."

With this remark as his ultimatum Major McGregor, the first lieutenant of Watson, got out.

"Take Off Some Calico." "Take off some calico, boys," came a voice from the crowd. Then there was a general jerking off of coats.

D. M. Russell, an aged citizen of Polk county, arose to plead for harmony. "I want to make an earnest plea," he said, "for the good of this party. We are in a serious situation. Our people are divided. What is the use then of holding this

OBJECTS TO A COMPROMISE.

Editor Constitution—The crisis is upon the populist party, and if wisdom controls its action it will be trusted in the future by the people. Fusion has never been a reform party; therefore we should insist upon a full electoral ticket of populists for Bryan and Watson, with no compromise with Sewall.

The state executive committee of the populist party should have full power to readjust the electoral ticket with the democratic executive committee, provided Sewall retires from the race.

Relative to the state ticket, we should nominate a governor and state use officers that stand squarely on the St. Louis platform and make a vigorous and conservative fight for victory. The most important issue in the state campaign is an honest ballot and a fair count, and demand all ballot box stuffers and bribers be sent to the penitentiary, where all robbers belong.

Our electoral ticket should be composed of men that cannot be bought by flattery, office or gold.

meeting? Why should you all say that we should name a man here? Why this sudden action? Are you going to say to the populists, 'Get out of here? This is a serious situation.

He was interrupted by Yancey Carter. "This is a private meeting," he said. "We have a right to talk of any candidate we choose. It is true we are all populists, but we have a right to favor some men."

"Hines, Hines, Hines."

Everywhere there were enthusiastic cries for Hines. His name was yelled by a hundred throats. Yancey Carter explained. He stated that the first meeting was called by the Gambrell men and that they, seeing the failure of their plan, decided to retire and break up the caucus.

A rough voice broke in from a black whiskered man: "Brother Gambrell voted for Brother Hines two years ago."

There was loud clapping at this. The black whiskered man was in favor of Gambrell. He wanted it understood that Gambrell would be satisfactory to him. He was for Hines if he would accept, however.

"Blue Fred" Takes a Hand.

Up to this time "Blue Fred Wimberly" had remained spunk-like. Now he arose and shook his tawny mane. He spoke in a minor key.

"I am here to represent Pulaski county," he said. "I am acting independent of any caucus, but I want to let you know I am in favor of Hines. This is the situation that confronts us? For three weeks they

"Stump" Ashby Tells the State Convention To Order.

WORK PROGRESSES SLOWLY

"Middle of the Road" People Appear To Be in Control.

WRANGLING WAS BEGUN AS A STARTER

Great Disorder in the Hall at Times. Platform Will Be Reached Today.

Galveston, Tex., August 5.—The populist state convention was called to order promptly at 10 o'clock this morning by "Stump" Ashby, the state chairman. The morning was spent chiefly in speech making, the various committees on temporary organization, credentials, etc., being appointed. Mr. Burney, of Kern county, was elected temporary chairman and Mr. Calloway, of Navarro, secretary.

Whatever the wishes of the leaders may be as regards the fusion scheme, the leaders will have a hard time carrying it through, and evidently will do all they can to hold the matter down in the convention. It is very likely that the platform committee will publish a very phenomenal platform.

found dead in his room at the Watson house tonight. On his body was found a note to the effect that he did not commit suicide, but died of heart failure. The note is as follows: "This is the body of C. Y. McClelland, of Fort Worth, Tex. I died from heart failure. Did not commit suicide. I am a Knight of Pythias in Queenstown lodge, No. 21, of Fort Worth. Wire Captain A. C. Edgington, president of the Traders' bank, of Fort Worth, and he will send my body shipped to him. Wire my wife, Mrs. M. M. McClelland, Abbotts, Tex., also."

McClelland had been stopping at the Watson house about two weeks and made daily trips to Atlanta to receive treatment from Dr. Calhoun and Dr. Todd.

WYATT CAME TO HIS GRAVE.

Hypnotist Buries His Victim, Resurrects and Plants Him Again.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 5.—Professor Boone, a well-known hypnotist, put J. J. Wyatt under his mysterious influence yesterday and announced that he would bury his subject and bring him to live next Friday, after an interval of three days. Wyatt had previously consented to the arrangement and the burial took place at Fair View park last night at 10:30 o'clock, a tube being passed down to where he lay. He was buried four feet under the ground and a guillotine was placed at the grave.

Shortly before noon today Wyatt came from under the influence and realizing his situation began screaming like a wild man. He was hurriedly dug up and it was some time before he could be cooled down. He protested against a second interment, but Professor Boone soon got him under control and Wyatt was again put down in the earth.

The experiment is attracting much attention.

Guthrie, Okla., August 5.—Bill Doolin, the outlaw, who escaped from the jail in this city four weeks ago, was surrounded by deputy marshals at Wewoka last night. A desperate fight took place and during a fusillade of shots Doolin escaped. Deputies T. M. Gregor and Horace Reynolds were killed.

Chattanooga Arrested for Slaying a Kentucky Whisky Seller.

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 5.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Hughes, of Somerset, Ky., arrested Robert Mosely here today. Mosely killed a whisky keeper named Oliver at Condoville in 1879 and was committed to jail, but before trial escaped. He came to this city in 1884, assuming the name of Joseph McMurry, and has lived here ever since with his family.

A few days since it was learned that McMurry was an alias and through the activity of detectives his identity was disclosed. He claims the killing was done in self-defense and accompanied the officer without requisition papers. Mosely is of good family and always bore a good name.

NEBRASKA POPULISTS GATHER.

State Convention Appoints a Committee for Fusion Conference.

Hastings, Neb., August 5.—The populist state convention was called to order by Chairman Egerton this morning. A. H. Geyer, of Lincoln, was chosen temporary chairman and P. E. Eager, secretary. After naming the usual committees the convention adjourned till 1 p. m. Governor Holcomb's administration was eulogized.

On the reassembling of the populist convention this afternoon and after the committee on rules and order of business had reported, Captain P. H. Barry offered the following:

Resolved, That the matter of selecting presidential electors be referred to the executive committee of the state central committee under such instructions as shall be contained in the resolutions to be adopted by this convention.

Porter, of Merrick county, objected to leaving so important a matter to so small a committee and moved to amend by substitution central committee for executive committee. The amendment was accepted and after some discussing, the resolution was adopted.

Governor Holcomb was nominated by acclamation under suspension of the rules. John C. Harris, of Nebraska county, was nominated by acclamation for lieutenant governor. Governor Holcomb was escorted to the platform and spoke for half an hour, his speech being on state issues. Upon the convention being informed that a committee from the state democratic central committee was in the city asking for a conference with a like committee from the convention, it was moved that a committee of fourteen be appointed and that further business be suspended until the committee reported and the report was acted upon.

An adjournment was taken until 8 p. m. The convention reassembled at 8:30 p. m. The committee appointed to confer with a committee from the democrats reported that the democrats asked that the nomination of candidates for treasurer and attorney general be left vacant. The report was made without recommendation. After an hour's discussion, C. J. Smythe, chairman of the democratic state central committee, sent in a communication withdrawing the demand for representation upon the state ticket.

Mr. W. F. Porter received a majority of the votes cast and was declared the nominee of the convention for secretary of state.

The platform adopted indorses the action of the St. Louis convention; approves the course of Senator Allen in standing up for the masses, approves the administration of Governor Holcomb, favors mutual and fraternal, fire, life and accident insurance and also favors the valued policy insurance law. Senator Allen then took the floor to speak on the electoral ticket. He reviewed the issue at great length and at midnight was still speaking. There will be no nomination tonight.

SENATOR JONES IN NEW YORK.

Object Was To Arrange for Notification Meeting.

New York, August 5.—There were signs of excitement around democratic headquarters at the Hotel Baruch this morning over the expected arrival of Senator James K. Jones, of Arkansas, the chairman of the democratic national committee.

Senator Jones arrived in the city at 9 o'clock this morning, and was met at the station by the treasurer, William F. St. John. The two men drove to the Fifth Avenue hotel, where Senator Jones engaged a room.

Senator Jones, when seen a little later by a reporter, stated that the object of his visit to New York was simply to make arrangements for the big notification meeting at Madison Square Garden.

Senator Jones again denied the statement, republished again this morning, that he had said in an interview that Bryan would not accept the populist nomination and that the southern populists would go with the negroes, where they belonged.

When asked if he would reply to the letter of Thomas E. Watson, populist candidate for vice president, published this morning, Senator Jones said he would not, as the letter was based on an erroneous supposition.

Senator Jones also stated that in all probability Governor Stone, of Missouri, would deliver the notification address and that he himself would likely call the meeting to order. The Senator expected to start for Washington again this afternoon when he had completed his talk with Treasurer St. John.

Madrid, August 5.—Further riots growing out of the taxes imposed on the people have occurred throughout the province of Valencia.

The most serious disturbances occurred last night in the outskirts of the city of Valencia, where fifty men, armed with rifles paraded about shouting "Down with the taxes! Down with the government!" and defying the authorities to interfere with them. They at last made an attack on the officials who collect the taxes, the tax collected upon provisions of all kinds entering the city, and attempted to shoot them.

A strong force of police was hastily dispatched to the scene. Upon their arrival the police were greeted with a volley by the rioters, who proved themselves bad marksmen, none of the police being hit. The latter then charged the mob, which speedily dispersed when they saw that the police were determined to suppress the disorder. Five of the mob, including a woman, were wounded by the police.

Similar disturbances occurred in villages in the province, and many arrests have been made. The authorities allege that the trouble is fomented by the republicans, who collected upon provisions of all kinds entering the city, and attempted to shoot them.

Among the persons taken into custody in connection with the disturbances is one who had in his possession when arrested a number of compromising letters, some from Buenos Ayres and others from the United States.

Stores of arms have been discovered in two places and several arrests have been made in Madrid, where extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent an uprising. It is suspected by the authorities that conspiracies exist in Gerona and Saragossa.

The anti-Protestant feeling among the populace is spreading and is especially strong against Americans, who are suspected of promoting the agitation.

BRITAIN GIVES UP TRINIDAD.

Brazil Is Recognized as the Owner of the Island.

Lisbon, August 5.—Newspapers here declare that Great Britain has recognized Brazil as the owner of the island of Trinidad, off the coast of Brazil, which Great Britain recently took possession of as a landing station for its telegraph cable. The seizure of the island called forth energetic protests from Brazil, which, according to some papers here, have resulted in England withdrawing her pretensions to sovereignty of the island.

The Campaign in New England.

With a captivating eloquence such as the people of New England have never heard in any former political campaign, George Fred Williams, the brilliant young advocate of free coinage, is proclaiming the gospel of democracy among the Vermont hills.

As a republican state, Vermont has long been wedded to her idols, and seldom has the voice of a democratic missionary been heard in that section. Without realizing that any serious harm could possibly result from the blind support which they have always given to the republican ticket, the voters of that state have persevered in upholding a policy of finance which has not only robbed them of their hard-earned savings but which has loaded them with debt from year to year until they can barely stand up under the burden.

Unable to account for the hardships which they have suffered for the last twenty years or more, but hopeful of better times in the future, they have steadily postponed the relief for which they have prayed by slavishly voting the republican ticket.

At last, however, a gleam of hope has commenced to streak the horizon. With the sudden advent of George Fred Williams and the sound political speech which they have heard from the lips of that stout young apostle of reform, the farmers of Vermont who have hitherto constituted the bone and sinew of republicanism in that state, have commenced to open their eyes on the money question and to doubt the wisdom by which they have been misled in former campaigns. Hundreds have already come boldly out on the side of bimetalism, while many others who have not as yet taken any decisive step are seriously considering the matter of giving up their old party affiliations.

Aside from the magnetism of the brilliant young orator, which is doubtless responsible for much of the good which has been achieved in New England, the success of his missionary labors is chiefly due to the strance and somewhat startling truths which he has carried into that section. Had the principles of democracy been more thoroughly understood in New England, it is safe to suppose that republicanism would as it is today. With a vigorous campaign among the masses, there is no reason why the heavy republican majorities which have hitherto been cast in New England should not be decidedly reduced, if not entirely overcome.

Especially is the outlook favorable in Vermont, where the farmers have suffered greater hardships from the single gold standard than those of any other state. In a recent speech delivered at Newport, Mr. Williams pointed out the peculiar condition of things existing in Vermont. Said he:

"I may speak here in Vermont with more feeling and earnestness concerning the great issue that is now before us than I may speak in any other state in New England, because the state of Vermont has shown, by actual figures, a heavier loss on its wealth than any other state in New England, in proportion to its wealth, between the years 1880 and 1890. According to the census of the United States, the value of the farms in Vermont has sustained a loss of $3,000,000. The state of Vermont has sustained a loss of $3,000,000. Therefore, I may well come to the suffering state and present a cause which I believe to involve the rescue of your state, of New England, of the whole civilized world, from a false system of money which has been forced upon us in the last twenty years."

With such a record of hardships, reaching back for a period of more than forty years, there should not be a single farmer in Vermont so careless of his own interest and so indifferent to the welfare of his neighbors as to vote for the continuance of the single gold standard.

Such men as George Fred Williams are worth thousands of votes to the cause of democracy in New England. Far more powerful is the free-will offering which he lays upon the altar of his party than the hired eloquence of those moneyed speakers who are merely the tools of Mark Hanna.

The cause of democracy will not lack for eloquent voices in New England, and as the combat deepens in that section, others will spring up to follow the patriotic lead of the brilliant young son of Massachusetts.

A Unique Suggestion.
Fearing that ex-President Harrison will not be able to provide a suitable living for his young bride with whom he is now sojourning among the Adirondacks, The Philadelphia Inquirer suggests that he be made a senator at large with the privilege of occupying that office for life.

Ex-President Harrison, however, is not to be the only recipient of this mark of honor, should the suggestion of The Inquirer be adopted. When a president leaves the white house he goes into retirement and sometimes he is almost forgotten. This is not to the credit of the United States, which has been honored with the highest office in the gift of the people should not be allowed to give up all connection with public affairs. He should step out of the white house into the senate chamber as a senator at large for life.

The knowledge which he has of state and finance and internal affairs and diplomacy cannot but be valuable to the nation. Without commenting at length on this unique suggestion of The Inquirer, it is sufficient to observe that such an office as the one proposed is not in keeping with the spirit of our institutions, and furthermore that Mr. Harrison is amply able to provide for the wants of his family without legislative assistance.

An Excellent Selection.
Mr. W. R. Hearst, proprietor of The New York Journal, has placed Mr. Alfred Henry Lewis in charge of The Journal's Washington bureau, the appointment to take effect at once.

This announcement will be gratifying not only to the friends of Mr. Lewis, but to all those who, not knowing him personally, have read with peculiar pleasure his brilliant Washington correspondence during the past few years. Mr. Lewis went to Washington several years ago as correspondent of The Chicago Times, and after the consolidation of that paper with The Chicago Herald, he conducted a general service of his own from Washington, which brought him at once to the front as one of the most gifted of American correspondents. When Mr. Hearst bought The New York Morning Journal and began to reach out for the best of everything that could be found, he secured the services of Mr. Lewis, whose pen for the past several months has done brilliant special work in this well-known metropolitan newspaper.

Mr. Lewis will be at home in Washington; indeed, as a Washington correspondent, his genius will have full play and will manifest itself to better advantage than in any other line of work. What he does not know about Washington and the intricacies of official life at the national capital is not worth knowing. Of public men and measures, he is probably the best posted newspaper man in America, and this knowledge, with his happy faculty of interesting presentation, makes him an ideal Washington correspondent.

The Journal is to be congratulated in having put its Washington service in such capable hands. We predict for Mr. Lewis and The Journal an era of record-breaking and of new patterns in Washington correspondence.

Good Roads.
The question of good roads is one which has frequently been agitated but which has failed as yet to receive that deliberate consideration which its real importance demands.

In a recent article published in The Methodist Review, Professor H. H. Stone, of Emory college, who has given the subject careful thought, states that good roads, according to the standard which prevails in other countries, are absolutely unknown in the state of Georgia.

Such a condition as even our best roads present would not be tolerated for a moment in Belgium, France or Germany, where the roads are so admirably constructed as to offer in many cases superior advantages to the railroads.

Professor Stone deprecates the spirit of indifference which exists in this and other states in regard to the matter of good roads, and bespeaks a revival of interest on the part of those who have ceased to agitate the question.

Every one should read Professor Stone's able paper, which contains a number of pertinent and valuable suggestions, and is worthy of thoughtful consideration.

Republicanism Rebuked.
One by one the number of converts to the policy of bimetalism is rapidly increasing. Within the last few days, Dr. W. H. King, a leading republican of the state of Missouri, who has heretofore been actively identified with the party organization, states that he cannot indorse the St. Louis platform and is obliged to give his support to Bryan and Sewall.

His reasons for espousing the democratic cause are not those of a shallow and vacillating mind, but rather the convincing arguments of one who has made a profound study of the issues which now confront the American people.

Since his party is no longer the champion of equality but rather the friend of corporate wealth, he declares that he can no longer consistently remain in its ranks.

On the other hand, believing the democratic party, as represented by Mr. Bryan, to be the party of the people, he declares himself unreservedly in favor of the platform enunciated at Chicago.

Dr. King takes the position that what is called "the balance of trade" can be determined only to a limited extent by the tariff. He believes that free coinage, however, will not only insure prosperity and happiness in this country, but to a very large extent break up the trade which England is now deriving from these countries which have adopted the double standard.

In speaking of the money plank of the St. Louis platform, Dr. King indulges in the following severe and caustic language:

"Instead of exhibiting the bravery of independence, and reflecting the glory of the great republic, it is cowardly and reduces the American eagle to the semblance of a sick hen, frightened by the British lion and the American citizen to the attitude of a fawning suppliant. It is insincere and hypocritical. If bimetalism is only to be secured by a unanimous agreement of all the civilized (so-called) powers, everybody knows England would be foolish to enter any such agreement. But, suppose she did. The moment she got her exchanges to suit her she would withdraw, and leave the rest of the nations to 'hold the bag.' Again, if it is not necessary to have her, but only the United States and the other powers to effect bimetalism, it is not a fact that she is up to the neck in German, Latin Union, India and the United States bimetallic? And I ask, if the platform of London in 1865, when the United States was a free nation, was not a woman commenced to experiment with all patience, and finally exhibited to her friends the indigo plant, which became the staple of the Carolinas until the patenting of the cotton gin. This was the position of the United States in 1865, when she was a free nation, and she was a woman commenced to experiment with all patience, and finally exhibited to her friends the indigo plant, which became the staple of the Carolinas until the patenting of the cotton gin. ## MARKET GOES WILD

Such Bull Movement as That of Yesterday

KLE Never Witnessed Before.

CAUSED BY CROP ADVICES

Liverpool Made a Full Response to Our Recent Advance.

A VIGOROUS SCRAMBLE TO COVER SHORTS

The Stock Market Was Neglected with Fluctuations Narrow—Wheat Lost a Fraction.

Messrs. Hubbard Bros. & Co., in their cotton letter yesterday say the markets for cotton have simply gone wild today, over three-fourths of the short interest to cover their outstanding contracts for shipment to Europe, and the constant receipt of cumulative advices of injury to the crop throughout the southwest and the Mississippi valley. Our reports of last week are now being confirmed by advices received from the sections from which our reports were received. A reaction from this sharp advance is in order at this time, as the market has not sustained such a sharp upward movement for many years, but if there be no relief from the disastrous drought in the sections mentioned the market will eventually sell higher. Although speculation is rampant the actual demand for a reduced crop will hasten values. Liverpool cables this week state that there is little buying at that market to sustain the expected offerings from America. Our exchange has never witnessed such a bull market as we have seen today under the covering of the short interest made during the past six months. So far there does not appear to be any long interest forming except from the southwest. The closing of the market was firm at a concession from the best price on an active demand for western operators who have covered today. Liverpool should be at least 13-16d higher to sustain the advance.

McIntyre & Wardwell's Cotton Letter.
New York, August 5.—(Special.)—This was the wildest day the cotton market has seen for a long time. The trading opened under the impetus of a rise of 15-16d in Liverpool. January opened at 7.31, closed at 7.31, then advanced to 7.32 and closed 7.32. With the tone firm, the trade now recognizes the fact of the truth of the market. The market has been badly hurt, and the attempts of a host of shorts to cover simultaneously caused the remarkably sharp advance of today, but the rise that has taken place of nearly a cent and a half a point from the lowest discounts a deal of damage and the purchase of nearly half a million bales of cotton has largely reduced the short interest, so that at the moment we can hardly advise freedom. The market is pouring in with a freedom altogether without precedent so early in August, and the pressure of this cotton upon the market is sure to make itself felt. Upon any further advance we fear selling for a turn.

McIntyre & Wardwell's Cotton Letter.
New York, August 5.—(Over the Palm.)—The market today was the most excited witnessed in years and the fluctuations were violent and frequent. At the start prices shot up 25 to 28 points, and though they reacted and declined 4 to 7 points later, the loss was subsequently recovered and again prices rose rapidly, closing at a net advance of 33 to 35 points, with sales of 42,300 bales. The weekly government report was bullish, confirming private reports of extensive damage by drought and frost. Shorts covered heavily and the orders were reached assisting the rise. Everybody wanted to buy and the market advanced easily. Commission houses bought. The market closed firm at the advance. If Liverpool responds to the rise here today many would not be surprised to see prices still advance further. New Orleans advanced 25 points, Liverpool advanced 3.16d on spot with sales of 30,000 bales. Futures there advanced 1/2 to 3/4 points, closing very steady. In Manchester yarns were strong, cloth dull; prices instated upon but business small. The port receipts were 682 bales, against 633 last week, 112 last year and 309 in 1894. This far this week 3,315 bales, against 4,320 last week. Spots advanced 3/4 here with no sales; middling 7 3/4, Savannah and St. Louis advanced 3/4 and Norfolk, Baltimore and Augusta 3/4. Augusta sold 647 and Savannah 280.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, August 5.—The continued activity in all departments of the dry goods market is a severe tax upon the firmness of sellers, despite the supporting influence of the severe curtailment of production, and there are reports current of some weakness shown in both cotton and woolen goods. This weakness is not, however, a general feature, and is so confined as to have little bearing upon all around conditions, beyond the fact that it furnishes buyers with an argument in business they endeavor to procure in other quarters. Today's operations at first hands have again been quite moderate, but compared with some recent experiences show more buyers and a securing of a few supplementary supplies of fall goods and of staple lines mostly in use for the converting and cutting up trades. The call for heavy weight of woolsens and worsted men's wear develops slowly, and reorders for heavy weight are limited in volume. Silks are sold through-out, and hosiery and underwear inactive.

Two New Bales.
New York, August 5.—The first two bales of new cotton from the Memphis district, consigned by O'Brien & Co., to F. B. Cuthbert & Co., were sold at 8 1/2c per pound. The buyers were George W. Cumming. The first bale of cotton from the new crop of Mississippi, consigned by F. B. Cuthbert & Co., was sold at auction in front of the cotton exchange to George W. Cumming. It was grown by C. O. Willis, of Vicksburg. The grade was good middling, 14 1/2c staple, and it brought 12c per pound.

SAW ELECTRIC CHAIR

Macon Young Man Arrested in New York for Murder.

VISIONS OF DEATH MACHINE

Goodman, of the Central City, Mistaken for an Assassin.

BERNER OF MONROE, VISITS BIBB COUNTY

Bonds for Paving Work Are Now Being Printed—Secret Orders
Elect Officers.Macon, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Mortie Goldman, of Macon, was arrested this morning in New York on suspicion of having killed Annie Brock.Goldman is a well-known and respected Macon young man, who with his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Goldman, successfully conducts a retail dry goods and pawn shop business on Cotton avenue. He is twenty-two years old.He left Macon five weeks ago on a pleasure visit to his mother's sister, Mrs. Jennie Lissner, a wealthy lady of that city. He was expected to return to Macon next Saturday.Last Saturday he left New York for Atlanta City, expecting to return to New York yesterday.Shortly after midnight he was arrested by the police of East Twenty-second street station, on suspicion of being the murderer of Annie Brock, who was killed by a blow on the throat cut in her at 27 East Twenty-second street, yesterday morning.The police were very reticent concerning the prisoner, but said that he was in the company of the woman at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning.Goldman was arrested in a chop house located on information furnished by a friend of the murdered woman, whose name is Mrs. Rosa Schwartz. The latter told the police that Goldman was an old friend of Mrs. Brock, and that the murdered woman had told her on several occasions that she feared some day or later Goldman would kill her, as he had on more than one occasion threatened to take her life.Goldman was arraigned this morning before Magistrate Kudlich, when the officers testified that Police Captain Smith had investigated the case and that he was convinced that the prisoner at the time of the murder was on the train coming from Macon to New York.On this evidence, and there being nothing to connect the defendant with the murder, he was discharged.
His mother knew nothing of her son's arrest until this afternoon, when informed by The Constitution's correspondent.She was greatly surprised to learn that her son could not be guilty of such a crime, as he has always been of fine moral character and never carried a pistol or other deadly weapon.She immediately telegraphed to her sister in New York, asking particulars, and also got Chief of Police Butler, of Macon, to wire the officials in New York about the matter. This afternoon at 5 o'clock Mrs.
Goldman received the following telegram from her son at New York:"Am out. Everything O. K. Mistaken identity; no more trouble."About same time Chief Butler received the following telegram from a Pinkerton man:"Mortie Goldman, Macon, Ga., arrested for murder, promptly discharged. His son, Goldman, will telegraph his son to return to Macon at once. Goldman's father died three years ago in Macon."

Hon. Robert Berner.

Hon. Robert Berner, of Monroe, is in the city today. His presence naturally suggests the state senatorship from this district.
The nominating convention meets at Forty-six next Saturday. It will be largely attended by delegates and spectators, owing to the impression that is abroad that opposition will be made by the Bibb delegation to the nomination of Mr. Berner. It may be the case, however, that Bibb will unanimously and freely support Mr. Berner.Not a member of the Bibb delegation has been heard to express a word in opposition to Mr. Berner.

Election of Officers.

At a meeting last night of the Uniform Rank of Knights of Pythias Nathan Gillespie was elected captain and George School was chosen second lieutenant.Mr. Gillespie was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Captain William G. Boler to the position of lieutenant colonel. Under his administration the Macon rank has increased in membership and its financial condition has greatly improved. Captain Gillespie will keep the rank up to the high standard reached by Captain Boler.

Knights of Pythias Excursion.

The Macon division of the uniform rank Knights of Pythias have decided to give an excursion on August 27th to Warm Springs. The fare for the round trip will be $1. It is expected that a very large crowd will go to the Springs. The excursion will be to Columbus and West Point will be to visit Warm Springs at the time of the Macon excursion. President Jones
Ward, Colonel William G. Boler and W.
H. Boler have been appointed a committee of arrangements.

Mystic Shriners.

There are a number of Mystic Shriners in Macon, and they have decided to hold a meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the asylum of St. Omer commandery to discuss the establishing of a temple in this city. There is no doubt of the shrine being formed, and it will be splendidly or-fitted.

Getting Ready to Pave.

Alderman Prouditt introduced an important resolution in the city council last night.
It is that an appropriation of $300 be made to pay the expenses of a committee of five aldermen to visit various cities for the purpose of ascertaining the best material for paving. The resolution was referred to the finance committee. The $300,000 of paving bonds are now being printed, and will be put on the market for sale. Bids will be solicited on different kinds of paving material.

The Movement Grows.

The movement inaugurated by the American Cotton Association, headquarters at Macon, continues to grow. President Jones
Ward was notified today of 4,500 more bales of cotton that would be stored in the warehouse of the association.

This Is Worth Reading.

You'll find that very few people make a second purchase at a store where they have once persuaded to take a different article from what they intended to purchase. Now this same rule should be adopted by every person who enters a store to purchase Simmons Liver Regulator. This medicine has become so popular that many imitations are being offered under different names, because the dealers are unscrupulous. They chuckle at their smartness, while the customer finds no relief from his miseries. Beware of these smart dealers. Simmons Liver Regulator is the best household medicine, and millions of people have found relief and health in taking the real article. Many call it "The Old Friend," and "Better
Call on the packager." You will know it by the Red & Co. to satisfy the National War-
the said M.

TO SUE THE CHURCH

Rev. T. W. Armstrong Will Go To Law
with the Methodists,

WAS DEPOSED BY CONFERENCE

Minister Claims He Was Damaged
$10,000 by Being Refused a License To Preach.Valdosta, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—If the Rev. T. W. Armstrong, who was deposed by the Athens district conference
last week, does not change his mind, the Southern Methodist church will be defendant in one of the most interesting libel suits ever tried in this state.Rev. T. W. Armstrong was in Valdosta yesterday, and says he is going to bring suit against the church for $10,000. He says that the Athens district conference had no right to refuse him a new license without bringing charges against him and giving him a trial and convicting him of the charges. He says that he has been in the church since 1870, and that he has been in the primary duty for twenty years.It is understood that the conference failed to grant him a new license, and that he ground that he was a heretic in his views.Mr. Armstrong claims to be one of the strictest of Methodists, and probably no man living in the state has waged harder warfare for the creed of that church than
he. He will be remembered as the minister who became engaged in a debate with Rev. Mr. Carwell at Douglasville several years ago, and who was expelled from the Christian church in this city
three years since. In all of his debates Mr.
Armstrong has shown a power of eloquence,
logic, wit and sarcasm that has won him
the efforts of almost any other man in the Methodist church in Georgia. He has written a book on baptism, defending the Methodist faith of that of denominations which believe in immersion.It is understood that he went to Lake Piedmont to begin a series of lectures on his pet subject in order to contract the effect of a series of meetings which are being held in the Christian church at that place. The divine takes great pride in the battles he has fought for Methodism, and now that the Athens district has deposited him he accepts it as the "unkindest cut of all."His suit against the church will be one of the most interesting in the annals of the Methodist church in Georgia. He does not doubt for a moment that he means just what he says and that his suit for damages will be pushed to the last.

MONTGOMERY HIT BALL HARD.

Mobile Was Not in the Game with Gowling Men.Montgomery, Ala., August 5.—The difference in the scores between Montgomery and Mobile today represents the difference in the batting ability of the two teams, and for some pretty bad errors Mobile would have been shut out. Flaher had to be called down again today, and as the umpire seemed unable to control him, he was given him that he would be put off the ground by the umpire. This had the effect of keeping him quiet for the rest of the game. The game was a hard one, but Mobile was hit by a ball that looked like a sledgehammer.Montgomery, ab. r. h. po. a. e.

NEWS OF THE ROADS

Classification of Two Systems Changed by the Commission.

MEANS REDUCTION IN RATES

A Meeting of the Executive Board of the Freight Association Called for Asheville August 13th.

The state railroad commission was in session yesterday, but heard no cases. The members took up for consideration some cases which they had been talking over before.

An order was passed placing the Georgia and Alabama and the Georgia Southern and Florida in the fourth class. This lifts them from the sixth, and goes into effect August 15th. All the railroads are divided into classes, and their freight charges are regulated according to their class. The lower the class, the higher the rate allowed by the state commission on local business.

The change will make a reduction in rates along both lines.

This change was made because these two roads have grown from small lines to standard systems, and the commission lines them up with the Central and the Southern.

Rule 1 Amended.

Rule 1, which regulates charges on two or more lines which are connected and which are under the same control, was amended so as to apply where one road holds a majority of stock in another. This amendment was introduced by Judge Fort, and was discussed last week when the board had the petition of the Georgia Southern and Florida and the Central.

Present System Stands.

The commission will not interfere with the present rule governing the charge of 4 cents a mile by conductors when passengers get on trains without tickets. The general passenger agents of the roads are unanimous, practically, in favor of the present system, and oppose the change which was proposed by General Passenger Agent McDonald, of the Georgia Southern and Florida. None of the other roads wanted the system changed.

EXECUTIVE BOARD TO MEET.

Presidents and General Managers Are Called Together for August 13th.

A call has been issued for a meeting of the executive board of the Southern States Freight Association for Asheville on August 13th.

As previously announced in The Constitution, there will be a conference of the presidents and managers and their lawyers, in New York, on Monday next. That meeting is to talk over the situation and the best course to be pursued when the junction comes up before Judge Simonton, on Saturday following, at Greenville, S. C. Some undesirable complications may arise whenever the judge decides that the application for a permanent injunction. If he dissolves it, which the associated lines do not expect him to do, according to current report, they will be in the position which confronted them before they declared for the 80 per cent cut. They would have to compromise or put in the 80 per cent cut, with the alternative of admitting that they were bluffing before. If the injunction is sustained and made permanent, the Seaboard will be very likely to carry the case up to the supreme court of the United States.

The business men of this territory seem to believe that the injunction will be made permanent, for they are hurrying their freight from the north and west just as fast as they get it on the ships and trains. First-class freight is moving rapidly. The temporary injunction after it was modified by Judge Simonton, played right into the Seaboard's hands, for the order allowed the Seaboard's cut of 25 per cent to stand, but forbade the other lines from putting in a cut.

The Seaboard's cut comes off on Saturday. Then everybody will be on the same footing, and things will move along until August 15th, when the magnates and their lawyers will drop down on Greenville, by way of Asheville, from New York.

Special Rates.

Commissioner Richardson has authorized excursion rates on the certificate plan, under the rules of the passenger association, for delegates to the members attending the following meetings:

Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, St. Louis, Mo., August 5-11th.

American Physical and Nutritional Association, Montreal, Que., August 12-20th.

Improved Order of Red Men, great council of the United States, Minneapolis, Minn., September 7-11th.

National Wholesale Druggists' Association, Philadelphia, Pa., October 5-9th.

Coal Rates Today.

The state railroad commission takes up the question of coal rates again today. A radical reduction on coal from the Durham mines in North Georgia has been proposed by Commissioner Crenshaw. The tendency of the board's mind, as Colonel William Henderson would say, is to reduce the present local rates in Georgia. The railroad claim that they are getting very little out of the coal traffic now.

Railway Notes.

Mr. W. D. Allen, who succeeds Mr. W. H. Taylor as assistant passenger agent in Atlanta, has arrived from Jacksonville.

Mr. Fred Jones, the Cotton Belt's passenger representative in Atlanta, has been returned from a tour of the system.

Mr. Theodore Brown, the Big Four's southern passenger representative, is down from Chattanooga.

Mr. L. A. Shipman, the Southern's traveling passenger agent at Birmingham, has been returned from a tour of the system.

Mr. J. B. Rice has been appointed superintendent of the Eastern Minnesota.

John G. Taylor is the new superintendent of the Wilman division of the Great Northern.

The Florence Belt railroad, at Florence, Ala., has been bought by J. F. Montgomery, of Taunton, Mass.

The Great Northern's latest grain circuit provides for the lowest rates ever.

ITS WALLS IN DANGER

Alexander Building Threatened by Work on the Austell Building.

WORK HAD TO BE SUSPENDED

Building Inspector Discovers That It Would Be Unsafe To Continue To Undermine Adjoining Walls.

Work on the twelve-story Austell building was brought to a sudden halt yesterday afternoon and the workmen went home an hour before their usual quitting time.

For the past few days the men employed in clearing up the site of the building have been tearing down the wall of the old building now occupied by the American Book Company.

Work on the twelve-story Austell building was brought to a sudden halt yesterday afternoon and the workmen went home an hour before their usual quitting time.

The men were tearing down the wall of the Alexander building, which is in immediate danger of collapsing, and as it is the building is very close to the Austell building.

The Alexander building was erected two years ago before the present building laws had been passed by the city, and before there was such an office as that of building inspector. The walls were very thin, having been built only twelve inches wide.

The wall of the Alexander building seems project four inches or thereabouts over the lower part of the wall on the Austell property, causing the lower part of the Austell building to be part of its necessary support.

It was this state of affairs that caused the building inspector to find that the work of tearing down the wall stopped until something could be decided on by the owner of the property. Those in charge of the Austell property have a perfect right to tear down their part of the wall. If they tear it down the Alexander building will be placed in a very dangerous position and it might fall at any time.

This morning there will probably be a meeting between Messrs. Miles & Bradt, the contractors for the Austell estate, and Mr. J. G. Dallas, the agent of the Alexander estate. At this meeting some kind of an arrangement will be made. From the present state of affairs it is probable that the only thing possible for the owners of the Alexander estate to do will be to build a new wall to the side of their building next to the Austell estate.

If they agree to let the piece of wall on the Austell estate that is supporting the Alexander building stay where it is, the building inspector will undoubtedly condemn the wall and order it torn down since it will leave the building in a very unsafe condition.

CUNNINGHAM WILL IN COURT.

Another Feature of the Interesting Case Filed.

Another chapter in the Cunningham case was reached yesterday in the superior court when a petition was filed by Mrs. Cunningham asking that the estate be sold.

When Mr. John D. Cunningham died in 1922, he left an estate valued at about $25,000.

Mrs. Cunningham was made executrix and has been managing the estate. At a hearing yesterday the court received evidence in order to protect the heirs. A few weeks later an attempt was made by his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Cunningham, to receive the estate.

The case is now pending in the supreme court. The petition filed by Mrs. Cunningham in the superior court shows that at the death of Mr. Cunningham the estate was worth about $25,000. The estate has been spent in the administration of the executrix and the court is now trying to determine what should be done with the estate.

After the installation of Grand Chancellor C. Henry Collins of Augusta, delivered a ten-minute speech, which captured the crowd.

HIS RECORD CITED

Mayor King Urged To Veto the Comptroller and Sexton Ordinances.

HIS VOTE BROUGHT TO LIGHT

His Stand in the Legislature Recalled. Committee Considering the Edgewood Avenue Matter.

Mayor King has not yet acted on the ordinance creating a commission to direct the affairs of the cemetery and to elect the city sexton. Nor has he signed or disapproved the ordinance making the office of comptroller appointive by the mayor subject to the approval of the council.

The two ordinances have not yet been sent to the mayor by City Clerk Phillips, but the papers will go to the mayor's office this morning. Just what disposition will be made of them is not known, the mayor not having indicated his probable action in the matter.

All of the candidates for comptroller and sexton are using their influence to get Mayor King to veto the ordinances. A Mr. King championed the cause in the legislature, and to his able advocacy is due much of the credit for the passage of the law giving the people the right to elect the officers.

Those who are asking the mayor to veto the ordinances have dug up his official record and are pointing him to it. The candidates and their friends urge that the contest for the places is already on and that much time and money are being spent. They say that to practically abolish the offices now would be unfair and an act unwarranted by any unusual condition. They say that it is a small matter of record, but that the principle involved is of considerable consequence. It is argued that if two offices are taken away from the voters, the others will be taken away in the future, and the opponents of the scheme say that it should be nipped in the bud.

Want To Raise the Grade.

The finance and street committees of council will consider the project of raising the grade of Edgewood avenue between Piedmont avenue and Fort street some time soon. The grade has been secured to do the work and are in hand. It is estimated that the work will cost something like $30,000, and it is argued that if done it will enhance the value of property and give employment to hundreds of men who are now idle. City Engineer Clayton has made a careful investigation of the matter, and he thinks that the work proper of raising the grade will cost about the amount stated. Aside from that, the cost of repaving Edgewood avenue and Fort street, which crosses it where the grade will have to be raised, would be about $7,000.

The project is not a new one, but it appears to be growing in favor. The grade from Piedmont avenue to Fort street is a very low one, and it is claimed that it could be raised about six or eight feet at the lowest point. The hollow is now practically at low ebb in point of value, on account of the low-lying ground and rain water, and many of the property owners in the vicinity are interested in the matter, favoring the raising of the grade. They say that the street will be bettered in every way, and that a much-needed improvement will be made. The increased valuation of property if the grade is raised will benefit the city additional taxes and can pay for the outlay in raising the grade, it is argued.

There are many men out of employment who would be benefited by the work, and would start a building boom in the vicinity of the section, according to some of those who have petitioned the council to make an appropriation for the work. It is claimed that it will not be necessary to set aside all of the money needed this year, and that with a small sum the work can be started. The joint committee will be called together soon to look into the matter.
